

Iba se Aje
Petition

Ajé a wo gba o!
Ajé a wo gba o!
Ajé a wo gba o!
Aṣẹ! Aṣẹ! Aṣẹ o!

May Ajé come and bless us!
May Ajé come and bless us!
May Ajé come and bless us!
Aṣẹ! Aṣẹ! Aṣẹ o!

Ẹnyin ni Agba Òrìṣà.
You are the Elderly one among the Òrìṣà.

Ẹnyin ni Olugbode!
You are a heavenly protector!

A Prayer for Abundance:

I call upon Ire from the east, west, north, and south to come and stay with me today.

Olugbode is the name given to Ajé. (God has come to deliver us!)
Olugbode is the name given to Ajé.
Ajé please let me have you in my hands, please let me have you in all my endeavors.

Because the chameleon never lacks anything in life.
All the new good things should come and answer me today.

Whenever the sun rises, it rises for the whole world.
There is nothing that can overpower the rising of the sun.

So, all my blessings, wherever they may be, I command them to come and stay with me.

Ọrúnmilà, please go to Olódùmarè's house and bring me my wealth, my blessings, and my victory.

I'm looking for all blessings, but my hands can't grab or reach them.

Ọrúnmilà, please go to Olódùmarè's house and bring me all blessings in life.
Aṣẹ! Aṣẹ! Aṣẹ o!

Oriki Ajé

Ajé Olokun.
Ajé owner of the sea.

Ogugu luso.
One who has shelters.
Oniso booji.
One under whose umbrella people seek solace.

Asewe dagba.
You who elevates the junior one to the position of senior.
Eni ti teru tomo
n fojoojumo wa kiri.
You who everybody seeks each and every day.
Labomo, ti i bori aye.
Labomo, the power that rules the world.

Ajiki.
One who we wake up to greet.
Ajipe.
One who we wake up to praise.
Eni amunsokun.
One who we wake up to call upon.

Eni amusede.
One through whom we acquire beaded jewelry.

Eni amu sologinniginni
aso oba ti kona yanranyanran.
One through whom we acquire expensive clothing.

Aṣẹ! Aṣẹ! Aṣẹ o!